

BIO

My name is Elizabeth Williams (Liz); I have over 40 years of experience in the corporate, government, and non-profit organizations. I've worked as a performance analyst, as an advisor, a coach, and Director of Customer Relations.

The diverse experiences I bring from these multiple areas, I believe, is an asset, as it makes my classes unique. I like to integrate my knowledge of organizational skills into my courses, whether adjusting to your student's needs asking critical questions that will motivate them, and inspiring change within them. I plan on contributing to the world of education my teaching skills that drove my success in Corporate America.

I now provide my expertise as a consultant, and in July 2020, partnered with The WhatupHomee Collaborative to provide services as a facilitator. My background allows me to facilitate courses at varied ages and learning capacities.

As someone who loves to mentor & develop our youth and with some available time, I decided to offer some classes. I believe everyone, no matter the age, has some inherent wisdom within them.

As a facilitator, my responsibility is to help youth & young adults tap into their inner wisdom, and once they recognize it, access it, and then use it. That sense of accomplishment empowers and cultivates confidence.

I love facilitating different Life Skills courses: Personal Development, Public Speaking, Dreams, Where, Finance, Career Planning, and Leadership. When I am free from facilitating classes, I enjoy traveling, spending time with family, and reading an inspirational book. I am so excited to meet your student and am happy to support them in any way I can!
