

JOURNEE MINTZ

Dancer/ Choreographer

Journee Mintz is a recent homeschool graduate and self-taught all-around creative. Journee has always been interested in the arts. At a young age, she began teaching herself visual arts. First, she taught herself how to draw and then sew. Creating things she imagined and bringing them to life. Later at the age of 12, she began to have an interest in the performing arts. She began teaching herself to dance by watching YouTube videos. By age 16, she found her way to the dance studio, training with her mentor Wendy Elle. Then at age 17, Journee began working as a hip hop dance instructor alongside Isha Williams at Ice Dance Studios. Journee's choreography has been performed at local dance camps and dance showcases.

Journee believes that dance is both a visual and performing art. She wants to inspire her students to use dance to express their values and beliefs and to tell their stories.
