

La Tasha Langerston

Through the power and art of communication, La Tasha has helped women tap into a new level of maturity to thrive for nearly 20 years. She uses her experience and platform as a former Ms. Black California USA winner, corporate background, and Master's degree in Business Administration (MBA) to ignite a personal revolution in women to succeed spiritually, personally, professionally, and entrepreneurially. La Tasha is an inspiring corporate and academic conference speaker and a personal and professional development consultant. She is the author of books titled, Single But Never Alone, From Girlz II Women, Project: From Girlz II Women Revolution Leader's Guide and SPAM. La Tasha is the founder of From Girlz II Women Revolution (FGIWR), a division of the Urban Born organization. The FGIWR equips, empowers, and encourages females to maximize their lives, through exciting activities and programs. She is the founder of the Velvet Steel Women's Book Club. She is a Bible teacher and hosts the nationwide Velvet Steel Family Prayer Group she created. Business Minded with a Heart for God (BMHG) is a national mastermind and networking community she created to develop Christian entrepreneurs, leaders, and professionals. She facilitates bi-weekly BMHG webinars for men and women. Besides, effectively impacting women's and girls' lives, La Tasha works alongside her husband in their urban marketing company, Phatefx. Her highest priority is being a wonderful, godly woman to her husband and children, simultaneously striving to homeschool their children with a spirit of excellence.
